A WEBSITE CONCEPT FOR WHOLESALERS AND TRADE SUPPLIERS

Give your trade customers a faster way to find products, request quotes and reorder.

Shops, restaurants, offices and contractors want to check what you carry, see case sizes or pack options, and place repeat orders without waiting on a call back. RE5 builds supplier websites around how your team already sells, from a clear online catalogue to full trade ordering.

Harbourline Supply Co., a fictional supplier concept by RE5 Agency.

01

Shop by category

Food, cleaning, packaging, foodservice or equipment ranges organised so buyers find items fast.

02

Quotes and trade accounts

Business customers request pricing or apply for an account, with their details captured up front.

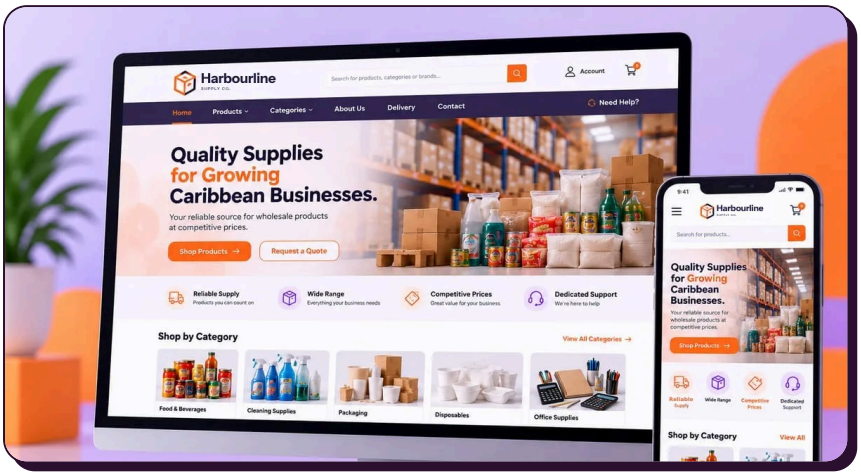

03

Structured repeat orders

Orders arrive itemised by product and quantity, making them easier to pick, invoice and repeat.

What your customers would see.

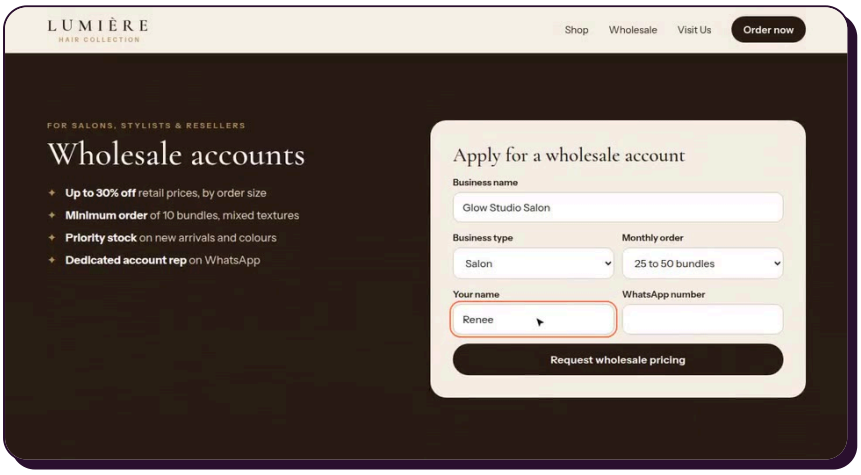

Screens from RE5 demo builds. Every business is different, so what we build is shaped around how you sell today.

Step 1

A catalogue buyers can search

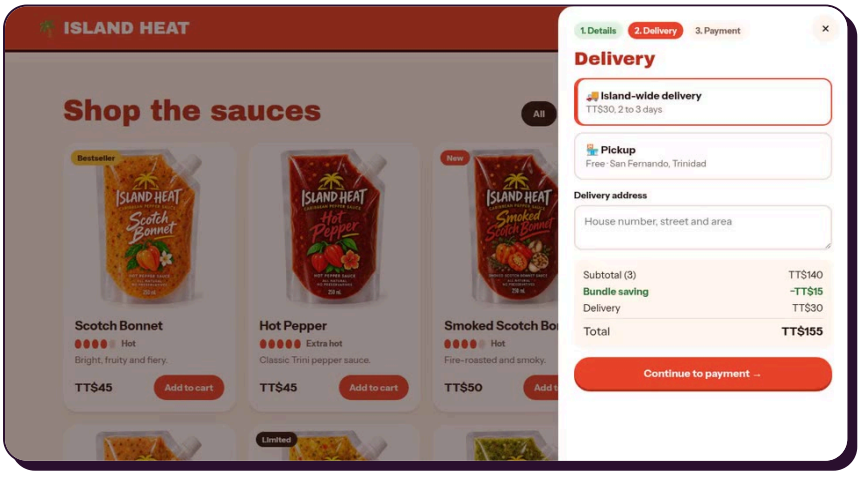

Category browsing, product search and a clear Request a Quote path on desktop and mobile.

Step 2

Trade account applications

Business customers apply online with business type and expected order size. Shown here on our hair wholesale demo; the same flow fits any trade supplier.

Step 3

Delivery or pickup at checkout

Buyers choose delivery or collection and see totals before they confirm. Payment options can include bank transfer or cash on delivery.

Already have a website? We can review what you have and look at adding product catalogues, quote requests, trade accounts or reorder lists to it.

5. Launch — We help your team and customers adopt it

What we would ask first

- How do business customers place orders today, and who takes them?
- Roughly how many products, pack sizes or case options do you carry?
- Do you use sales reps, and do customers have account pricing?
- Which POS, inventory or accounting system do you use, and can it export a product list?
